

Business Administration Prepares and Educates

The Business Education department at Wayzata High School is growing at a tremendous rate. Courses in Distributive Education and Business Law have been added this year to provide a much more thorough background for students who plan to enter any facet of this career.

In Typing and Steno, students of all grades, concentrated on speed and efficiency in timed writings, mailable letters, and readings.

Distributive Education combined the student store, and Business Law provided students with the legal aspects of "wheeling and dealing".

The growth of this new department has spurred great interest in Business careers for many WHS students.

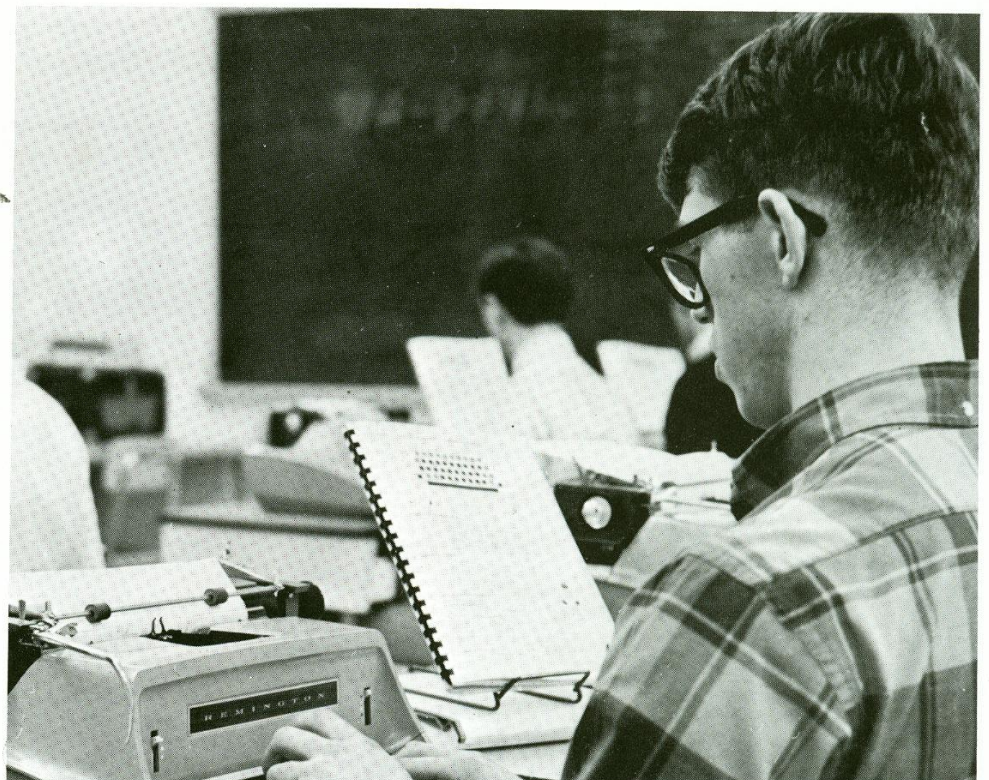

Mr. Ditty, Typing, Bookkeeping, "Why yes, I use Excedren and it works very well."

Miss Fossen, Office Machines, Office Practice. "Yes, that machine came complete with an on-off button."

Mr. Zigneigo, Steno, Bkkpg. "Dear diary ..."

Jim O'Melia learns to @%+7yp$e/.